

Professional Development Programme

WEB EDITING

The Web Editing programme covers fundamental web publishing concepts and skills necessary for creating, uploading, and maintaining a website, as well as addressing critical topics such as security and copyrights.

As websites have become a prevalent communication tool for businesses, organisations, and communities, this programme is beneficial for a diverse audience. The syllabus is standardised and vendor-neutral, ensuring that skills acquired can be applied to various technology platforms.

Students will receive an ICDL Certification upon passing the assessment.
